Investment Philosophy:

Purchase durable business franchises that are selling at a discount to their intrinsic value.

Investment Process:

We utilize a business owner's approach to investing, thoroughly investigating the economics of the business and the quality of the management team. Some of the characteristics of good businesses include strong recurring revenue and attractive returns-on-invested capital (ROIC). We have a strong orientation to low absolute and relative valuation, which are key to the execution of our investment strategy. A new idea will come from a variety of sources including company visits, screens, conferences, trade periodicals and general reading. All members of the research team are responsible for fundamental research.

Once an investment opportunity is identified it is put through an extensive due diligence process, which typically includes management interviews and site visits. When an acceptable level of conviction is achieved, the appropriate weighting (considering liquidity, valuation, etc.) is discussed and determined. A new company purchased in the portfolio will usually have an initial position size of 2-4%. The portfolio generally consists of 20-30 companies and is well diversified across sectors.

We are long-term investors, a typical holding period for our companies is three to five years, and portfolio turnover averages 20-40% per annum.

Recent Purchase:

Allegion PLC Ticker: ALLE Added: December 2024

Allegion is a leading global provider of security products and solutions with a particularly strong presence in the attractive US non-residential markets. While these markets are cyclical and many are currently weakening, the industry has grown reliably over time with the installed base of buildings and homes, rising desire for safety, security, and privacy, and increasing adoption of electronic products. The company's sales also have a recurring revenue element as revenues from repair/replace and new construction markets are split roughly equally at ~50% each. Allegion's trusted brands, large installed base, efficient manufacturing/service levels, technical/specifications expertise, and channel relationships built over decades make the company's position in these markets very difficult to replicate. The company also has a strong management team, balance sheet, and capital allocation stance, with prospects for high-single-digit to low-double digit earnings growth at value creating ROIC. The stock is trading well below the market, which we view as attractive given its above-average business quality. We initiated a 2% position in December 2024.

Recent Sale:

Omnicom Group Inc. Ticker: OMC Sold: December 2024

Omnicom is one of the world's largest advertising holding companies. The business is capital light, generates above-average ROICs, has strong free cash flow, and there is a good deal of flexibility in the cost structure. The long-term case for the ad agencies has been built upon their independent expertise for creativity, media planning, buying, and targeting in a complex, fragmented, and rapidly evolving advertising landscape. In December, Omnicom announced it will merge with Interpublic Group in an industry altering move. We believe there are significant integration risks, including client and talent defections. This moves counters our strategic preference based on an inward focus and the return of excess capital to shareholders. We sold our 2.7% position in Dec 2024.

The FMI Large Cap Equity Composite reflects time-weighted and asset-weighted returns for all discretionary accounts with a market value greater than $500,000 as of month end beginning January 1, 2012. From December 31, 2000 thru September 30, 2002 all accounts included were managed for at least one quarter, from October 1, 2002 to present all accounts were managed for at least one month. All returns are calculated using United States Dollars and are based on monthly valuations using trade date accounting. All accounts in this composite are fee paying. Gross of fees returns are calculated gross of management fees, gross of custodial fees, gross of withholding taxes and net of transaction costs. Net of fees returns are calculated net of actual management fees and transaction costs and gross of custodial fees and withholding taxes. Dispersion is calculated using the equal weighted standard deviation of all accounts in the composite for the entire period. As of 12/31/2011, the trailing three year annualized ex-post standard deviation for the Composite and Benchmark are required to be stated per GIPS®. FMI uses gross returns to calculate these.
