WHAT WERE THE FUND COSTS FOR THE PAST YEAR? (based on a hypothetical $10,000 investment)

Class Name	Costs of a $10,000 investment	Costs paid as a percentage of a $10,000 investment
Investor Class	$101	0.93%

HOW DID THE FUND PERFORM LAST YEAR AND WHAT AFFECTED ITS PERFORMANCE?

Over the past 12 months ending September 30, 2024, the FMI International Fund Investor Class gained 16.77%, compared with the MSCI EAFE® Index return of 17.53% in local currency and 24.77% in U.S. Dollars. As a result of a weakening U.S. Dollar, the passive currency hedge within the strategy was a significant headwind during the period. The Fund invests in quality businesses that have strong balance sheets and trade at discount valuations. We strive to generate strong absolute returns through a full cycle while having less volatility. We typically lag in more speculative-driven bull markets like the one seen over the past fiscal year.

WHAT FACTORS INFLUENCED PERFORMANCE

Inflation moderated during the period, and several central banks started cutting interest rates, leading to investor enthusiasm and rising equity markets across market caps and geographies. Similar to the U.S., growth outperformed value internationally. Many comparable companies in Europe and Asia trade at sizeable discounts to U.S. peers, creating relative opportunities. The FMI International Fund trades at a discount to the MSCI EAFE® Index. The biggest driver of the MSCI EAFE® Index was the Finance sector, where the Fund is typically underweight due to concerns over business quality and balance sheet leverage. Conversely, the Fund's Food and Household/Personal Care industry exposures were additive to returns as several of our more defensive holdings demonstrated strong fundamentals.
